“AGORA, HINARI and OARE are the tripod on which our scientific community stands.”

Edward Oyekanmi, PhD student
University of Ibadan, Nigeria
“Even a single article can change best medical practice on the ground in research poor settings.”

Dr. Tim Meade, Country Director, Tiny Tim & Friends, Zambia
“Without access to scientific information, [...] it is impossible to work effectively as a researcher. AGORA is a powerhouse of scientific research for those interested in real science.”

Dr. Sami Hyacinthe Kambire, Research Agronomist at the Institute for Environment and Agricultural Research (Kamboïnsé Research Station) Ouagadougou, Burkina Faso
“Just as I can’t stop eating breakfast before going to work I will not stop looking for clinical evidence on HINARI.”

Mulugeta Bayisa, Physiotherapist at the University of Gondar, College of Medicine and Health Sciences, Ethiopia
